

5

ABSTRACT

A compact and portable framing jig for positioning studs or other framing members to a fixed standard for spacing and alignment during framing. The framing jig is designed to remain in place while the stud is being secured and to act as a brace against movement during the process of securing the stud.

10